

Alvin Powell, MD

Dr. Powell a native of Boston, received his undergraduate education at Columbia University, medical degree from Tufts University School of medicine, completed his residency training in Internal medicine at Duke University and a fellowship in nephrology at Emory University. He has been a nephrologist in private practice in Greensboro, North Carolina for 29 years and was a former President of the medical staff at Cone Hospital. He currently is Chief Health Equity Officer at Cone Health, and Chief Medical Officer at Annie Penn Hospital within the Cone Health System. He was previously employed by the National Health Service Corps at a community health center in Florida, and has been a volunteer serving in medical missions in Haiti and Honduras. As a child he received his medical care at Boston City Hospital and a local Boston Community Health Center.